

NORFOLK VETERANS HONOR THEIR DEAD

Col. W. H. Stewart Was Orator of the Day—Many Veterans in Parade.

THURMAN CASE IN JUNE

Friends Have Engaged Cincinnati Lawyer to Defend Man Charged With Murder.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., May 16.—The Confederate veterans of Norfolk to-day paid their annual tribute to their dead. A large stand decorated with Confederate flags, was erected on Commercial Place, and on this the ceremonies attending the dedication of the bronze figure on the monument—thrust of a standard-bearer—took place. Music was rendered and several addresses were made.

Colonel W. H. Stewart, of Portsmouth, was the orator of the day. Just after these exercises the Portsmouth, Berkley and Suffolk veterans, who had assembled on Commercial Place, joined the Pickett-Buchanan Camp, of Norfolk, and the parade followed.

Besides the Confederate veterans in the parade were local military companies, camps of veterans, Sons of Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy in carriages, and invited guests. The Confederate colors attended the exercises and rendered beautiful music.

After marching through the main streets of the city, the parade headed for Elmwood Cemetery, where the exercises were continued.

Company B, of the Seventy-first Regiment, brought into play their new rapid-fire guns in firing the salute of the day.

Postpone Thurman Case.
Leo C. Thurman, charged with the sensational murder of W. P. Dole, in an East Main Street boarding-house, in February of last year, will not be tried on May 21, as it was first intended, but will be tried at the June term of the Corporation Court.

The reason for the delay in the hearing of the case is that Thurman's relatives in Cincinnati, O., have employed a lawyer in Cincinnati to defend him, and the lawyer could not get in time to defend the case on May 21st.

Attorney Martin, appointed by Judge Hancock to defend Thurman, will assist the Cincinnati lawyer in conducting the defense.

PEEFED AT GRAND LODGE

Knot Holes So Large That Odd-Fellows Adjourned to Norfolk to Conduct Ceremonies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, May 16.—The numerical strength of the fleet of American and foreign war-ships anchored off the Exposition grounds was further reduced to-day by the departure of the armored cruiser Washington and the torpedo-boats Hopkins, Hull, Truxton and Whipple, of the second torpedo flotilla, for New York. The Tennessee passed out of Cape Henry early in the day, and the torpedo-boats at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The battleship Georgia, which was delayed yesterday because of a fouled anchor, released the anchor after seven hours' work, and sailed from Hampton Roads shortly before last midnight. Derricks from the Norfolk navy-yard were used to release the anchor.

One of the ships to return to Virginia waters to-day was the battleship Minnesota, which was one of the first vessels to leave after the opening day. This ship passed Cape Henry early this morning and dropped anchor in Lynnhaven Bay.

Afraid of Peeping Toms.
Because of holes in the wall, the Virginia Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows were unable to proceed with their secret session in the Convention Hall at the Jamestown Exposition grounds to-day.

The exposition management agreed to place members of the Powhatan club all around the building to prevent persons on the outside from approaching within fifteen feet of the hall, and while this seemed at first acceptable to a majority of the delegates, the grand officers refused to proceed to business with conditions as they were, and there being no other hall on the ground available for use by the Odd-Fellows to-day, they withdrew and returned at 11:15 to Norfolk, and reconvened in the Y. M. C. A. hall there.

An effort was made to find quarters for the Odd-Fellows in the Auditorium Building, on the Exposition grounds, but the main auditorium could not be had because of the concerts of the day, and the only other two rooms available were not sufficiently large to accommodate the Grand Lodge.

Stock Among the Visitors.
The population of the Philippine Reservation here has been increased by the visit of the stork. The famous bird brought a baby boy to Gerónimo Linguano and his wife, Escolastica de la Cruz, members of the Tagala tribe. It is the first Tagala baby, and likely the first Philippine baby that the stork has ever left its nest to deliver.

A girl baby came to the Philippines as they were on the voyage here. She will be christened in a few days under the name of Pacifico Jamestown. The christening of the new boy will occur within a few weeks. He will be named John Smith.

Have New Water Works Now.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHATHAM, VA., May 16.—The improvements to the town water works, which have been under way since last summer, were to-day completed by the town authorities. The improvements consist of a 90,000-gallon stand-pipe, new reservoir, new water mains in the principal streets, two pump-houses and necessary equipment, representing an outlay of more than $10,000. The pressure from the stand-pipe is sufficient to throw a stream of water into the highest buildings in the place, and the facilities for fire fighting are better than at any time in the history of the town.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL AGAINST SALOONS

Adopts Ringing Resolution Expressing Sympathy With Efforts of Charlottesville Pastors.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.
Rev. Messrs. Goodwin, Clark, Crawford, Gravatt and Others Chosen.

WARRENTON, VA., May 16.—The one hundred and twelfth annual convention of the Virginia Council Against Saloons, which was informally opened Tuesday night at 8:15 P. M. in St. James' Episcopal Church, with a large number of the clergy and laity present, is continuing with unabated interest. Much of the time to-day was taken up with the transaction of routine business, but a number of resolutions were delivered by Rev. Robert W. Barnwell, of Petersburg.

Among the subjects discussed so far, on which the church took a decided stand, was the liquor question, and a resolution has been passed unanimously which refers especially to the efforts of the pastors of the city of Charlottesville to close the saloons. It reads:

"Whereas, the open saloon is a dangerous evil that thoughtful citizens of our country are striving to remove, and whereas, in the city of Charlottesville, whose limits touch the grounds of our State university, there are six saloons, and whereas, the pastors of that city, the president of the university and many of its professors, together with the citizens of the city, are doing all in their power to close, and whereas, on the 4th of June next an election is to be held in order of the city council of Charlottesville to decide whether the saloons shall continue or not; therefore, be it resolved, by this council, that we are full of sympathy with the efforts of the people of Charlottesville and the university, to close the saloons of that city, praying God's blessing on their efforts and wishing them great success."

Elected Delegates.
At the afternoon session delegates to the General Convention to be held in Richmond in October were elected as follows: Clergy, Revs. E. L. Goodwin, William M. Clark, Angus Crawford, D. D. and J. J. Gravatt, Laymen, Joseph Bryan, D. H. Mayo, Joseph Wilmer and L. M. Blackford. The subject of "Diocesan Missions" was discussed Wednesday evening. The resolutions were adopted by Archdeacons John Muncure and J. P. Tyler, Revs. Edgar Carpenter and R. A. Goodwin, Mr. Joseph Bryan and Messrs. P. W. Neve.

Special music was rendered again by the quartet, composed of Messrs. G. L. Fletcher, W. W. Turner, S. A. Appleton and Camphor, who will sing regularly during the council.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., May 16.—Fire broke out in the business part of this city this morning about 3 o'clock and destroyed three stores, three live stables, sixty-two horses and several dwellings. Rev. M. Sawyer, who had a room in one of the buildings, was slightly burned, and escaped in his night clothes. He lost all of his property, and had no insurance.

The Odd-Fellows' Grand Lodge of North Carolina has been in session here since Tuesday, and will adjourn to-night. The body is to be given an excursion to the mountains tomorrow by the lodges of this city to-morrow and will meet the Grand Lodge of Virginia there.
